Men of Esprit.

There are men of esprit who are excessively exhausting to some people. They are the talkers who have what may be called jerky minds. Their thoughts do not run in the natural order of sequence. They say bright things on all possible subjects, but their signers rack you to death. After a jolting half hour with one of these jerky companions, talking with a dull friend affords relief. It is like taking the cat in your lap after holding a squirrel.—O. W. Holmes.

Social Worm Turns.

An English paper inveighs against hosts and hostesses who look upon their guests as temporary chattels—creatures to be disposed of at will, amused, fed, exercised and finally herded to bed, entirely without reference to their own desires. Few of those victims have the courage of Lady Georgina Grey, who on being told by her host, as he bade her good night: "We breakfast at nine," replied: "Oh, do you? I breakfast at eleven."—Boston Transcript.

West Point Instruction.

The course of instruction at West Point is largely mathematical and professional. The principal subjects taught are mathematics, English, French, drawing, drill regulations of all arms of the service, natural and experimental philosophy, chemistry, chemical physics, mineralogy, geology, electricity, history, international, constitutional and military law, Spanish, civil and military engineering, art and science of war and ordnance and gunnery.

Walking Snakes.

It is supposed that the early ancestors of modern snakes walked on four legs. Some big serpents, such as the boas, even now have rudimentary hindlegs. But the "feet" on which all snakes do their walking today are the cartilaginous extremities of their ribs. To preserve these is the greatest difficulty in the preparation of an ophidian skeleton.

Too General Condemnation.

The average man's idea of "a fallacy" is any proposition not calculated to promote the interests of his own particular line of business.

Make That Afford Protection.
The natives of the Philippines and South Sea Islands wear large sun hats as a protection from the heat. Palm leaves of various kinds furnish the material generally used, but the straw after some are woven flat and some with a peak. The commonest form in the Philippines is made of palm leaves covered with cane, a cane banding giving an air space above the head. The ornamentation of these hats is very simple; no colors are used with the exception of brown, which is occasionally introduced in the use of hemp—Asia Magazine.

Music Turns Itself.
Stopping to turn a stubborn page, the musician not infrequently finds the effect of his performance spoiled by an awkward pause. From France now comes an invention which will obviate this annoyance, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The music is printed, not on pages, but on a long strip, as is the practice with music for the player piano. Placed on motor-driven rolls, the music passes before the eyes of the player at any desired speed. The controlling lever is conveniently placed at one side.

Conversation.
This business of conversation is a very serious matter. There are men that it weakens one to talk with an hour more than a day's fasting would do. Mark this that I am going to say, for it is as good as a working professional man's advice, and costs you nothing: It is better to lose a pint of blood from your veins than to have a nerve tapped. Nobody measures your nervous force as it runs away, nor bandages your brain and marrow after the operation.

He Locks Umbrella.
A London café attendant is the inventor of a combination lock to encircle an umbrella and prevent it being opened by a person ignorant of the combination.

Accepted Incident as Mandate.

A remarkable case of ring finding is related of St. Athlin, bishop of Zamora, who lived in the tenth century. He wanted to surrender his bishopric and threw his episcopal ring into the Douro. But a fish brought it back to him, and he concluded that he should continue to bear his burden.

PROBABLY the biggest hour in a fellow's life—as he looks back on it in after years. Really it is but a few moments—that Commencement speech—but it seems an hour; you will never get through it. And everyone sizing you up—from the caps of your new shoes to the way your coat collar sets.

That is one time when a fellow wants to be SURE—know absolutely—that his appearance is right. He can be sure of it if he is in a famous suit of

Kuppenheimer Good Clothes

They are not only real American style but they have that indefinable something—you recognize it the moment you get into them—a personality that spells "good appearance." It is more than just splendid designing and elegance of tailoring and beautiful materials.

A Kuppenheimer suit drapes and breaks differently when you stand, when you walk—when you are seated. It means you look well dressed—alive—smart—full of self respect—means that you have good judgment.

Kuppenheimer good clothes are an investment in "good appearance"—and more, they are an investment in wear and economy.

Commencement is not so very far away. Better not wait until the rush of many things the last few days. Come, select your suit now—let us have plenty of time to select the right model—the suit that tunes exactly to you.
